Founded in 1885, the International Statistical Institute (ISI) is among the oldest scientific societies. It counts over 4,000 individual members from more than 130 countries. It aims to promote the understanding, development and good practice of statistics worldwide.

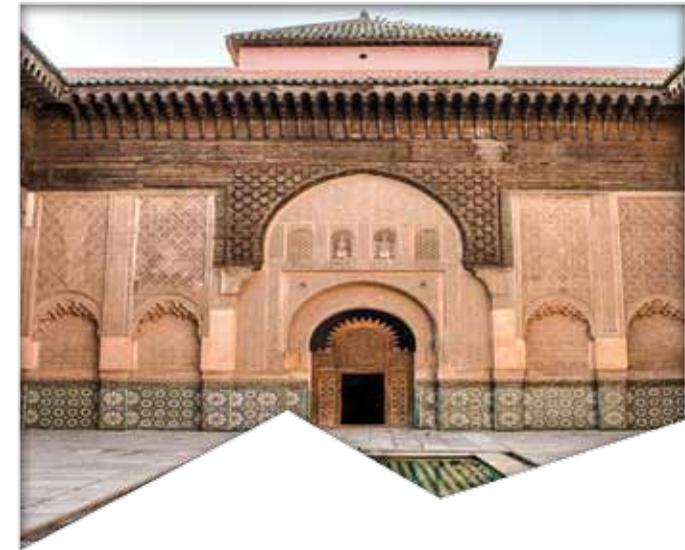

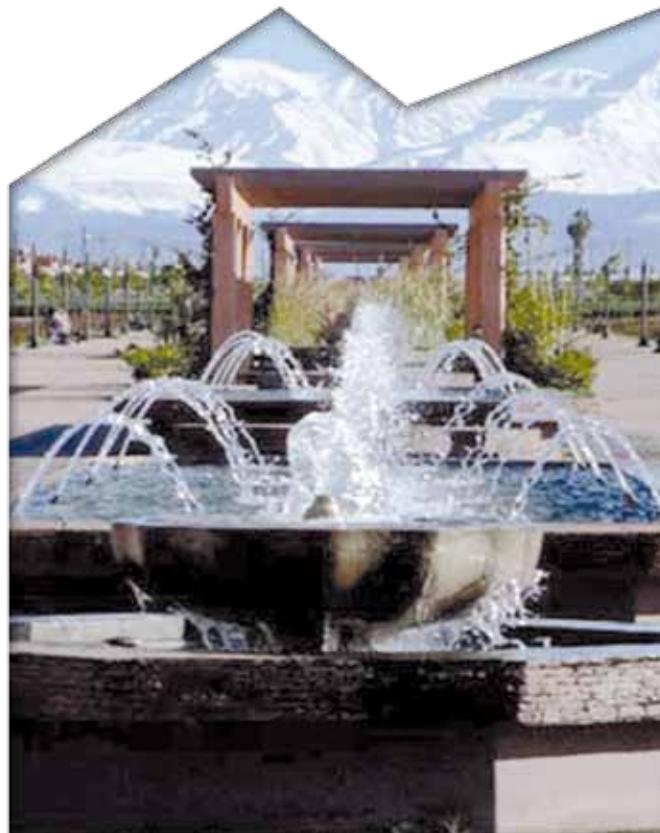

ISI2017 is also an opportunity to benefit from a wide range of additional scientific activities such as satellite meetings and short courses.

The upcoming 61st ISI World Statistics Congress (WSC), also known as ISI2017, will feature a rich Scientific Programme emphasizing the latest knowledge and innovation in statistics and fitting with the international statistical community interests.

To ensure an enjoyable and fruitful ambiance for sharing and networking, an attractive and diversified Social Programme is being designed.

It shall give the participants an opportunity to experience the rich culture of Marrakech and its magical smell and colors. ISI2017 is also an opportunity to benefit from wide additional scientific activities such as satellite meetings and short courses.

Boasting a great and an exceptional geographical position, the Kingdom of Morocco is located in North West of Africa having long and beautiful coastlines both on the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. Morocco has a total area of 710 850 Km² and a population reaching more than 33.8 million.

Marrakech is an imperial city enriched by its millennium heritage. Called "Red city", Marrakech gathers architectural treasures and monuments that witness a prodigy history.

The old city of Marrakech, the Medina, is one of the most famous landmarks in the world. Inside, you can find a lot of foodstuffs, fabrics and handicrafts, which are enclosed by majestic 12th century ramparts. The medina is very charmed with the famous Jamaa Elfna square, recognized by UNESCO as an oral heritage of humanity.

Marrakech, the realm of well-being, art, culture and gastronomy has also developed the art of event making.
